Top School Salaries Increased

The school committee came out of executive session Tuesday night to make salary awards of $25,000 for Superintendent Edward I. Erickson's last year with the school system, $18,950 for Assistant Superintendent Vaughn I. Clapp, and $14,800 to Jack Berberian, supervisor of general services.

The committee acted after studying the report on Andover's school administrative salaries which they had hired the New England School Educational Development Council to make for them.

Erickson's salary effective Jan. 1, 1969, represents a $3,450 increase. Erickson has stated his intention to retire this summer.

Clapp, who has responsibility for Andover's elementary schools, was raised from $16,450. Berberian's raise represents an increase of $1,800 over this year's $13,000 salary.

In general session, the school committee inspected the tentative school budget of $5,015,015 for what Chairman Dr. Richard A. Katz called "any glaring errors" before the budget is sent to Town Manager Richard A. Bowen for inclusion in the town budget, scheduled for public inspection at the library on Jan. 15.

Katz emphasized that the school budget now was a very tentative one, and due for more surgery in its details before town meeting. The salary amount came into Tuesday's meeting at $3,965,655 and the expense total was $1,049,360.

Under closest scrutiny in the expense budget was Donald D. Dunn's student body activity expense budget, whose physical education and athletic items alone show a jump from last year's

Five Pass Lieutenant Examination

Five of six members of the Andover Police department who took the civil service promotional examination for lieutenant have passed according to notification by civil service this week.

Sgt. Raymond Collins is the apparent top man on the list with a mark of 85.97. A check by the TOWNSMAN Wednesday revealed that Sgt. Hector Pattullo received a mark of 80.06, Patrolman Jacob Jacobson, 78.31 and Acting Sgt. Robert Parker, 76.69.

Sgt. Alfred M. Robb said he had passed the examination but did not wish to disclose his mark since he was contemplating an appeal. The position is new to the department and was provided for the 1968 annual town meeting.

END OF THE SEASON. With Christmas having come and gone, the traditional Christmas tree has been disposed of and picked up by members of the public works department. Here, an employee is shown putting the trees through a chipping machine at Andover Recreation park. The chips are scattered over the bankings of the area, thus making the seasonal symbol year-round value to the town.

Safety Center Still In Controversy

As town meeting and budget time approaches, the public safety center remains in controversy.

A contract was signed this week for construction of the center to be placed on the former site of the Tyer Rubber Warehouse on North Main Street. Town Manager Richard J. Bowen signed the contract with the Raymond G. Mansour Construction Co. of Lawrence, low bidder at $498,434, on Tuesday.

On Monday, the selectmen agreed to place an article in the annual town meeting warrant seeking funds not to exceed $120,000 to place additional items in the combined police-fire station building.

The article would provide for such items as air conditioning, carpeting, a pumper test pit, pistol range, antenna, communications console, etc., all removed from the original plans by the building committee in order to keep within the $513,000 appropriation available for the project.

The project has been dragging along for over two years. An original plan presented to the town at the town meeting last year was rejected, since it exceeded the funds.

Selectman Sidney P. White said he felt the building could be brought about within the funds available and promised to see that such was done.

A building committee was appointed and studied the proposal, finally coming up with the present plan. Town Manager Bowen approved the final plan but has now indicated additional funds are needed to properly implement the building.

It would appear that the request for additional funds will be in for rough sledding at town meeting.

To start with the finance committee is not particularly pleased with the request, which makes for a rough start.

Chairman Albert Greenberg said Tuesday that he would rather see a public safety center with the proper square footage and compatible to both the fire and police chief, or no facility at all.

Greenberg feels the town should not go forward with the project as matters stand at the present time.

He feels that "frills should be eliminated," and the town either meet the demands of a proper building or abandon the project completely.

He suggested that such an item as a pistol range for the police department could be taken care of by making arrangements with local sportsmen's clubs which are licensed by the National Rifle Association.

The contract, however, has now been signed, committing the town to construction of the building, and acceptance of the architect's plans.

Construction is expected to begin as soon as weather permits.

Meanwhile, the town must still ponder additional funds for a project which has been debated for over two years.

Also to be considered is the purchase of an 85-foot aerial ladder fire apparatus which is due for delivery this year. It's possible it wouldn't even fit in the present Central station.

The Political Pot Begins To Simmer A Little Bit

Wolfgang Berthold

The political pot began to simmer this week with the announcement of candidates for office in the March 3 town election.

Wolfgang Berthold announced his candidacy for the three year term on the board of selectmen. The term of Sidney P. White expires this year.

Daniel Frishman has announced that he is a candidate for the three year term on the school committee. Frederick Fitzgerald, whose term expires this year, is not seeking re-election.

Dr. Richard S. Cotton, 66 Haggitts Pond Road has taken out nomination papers for the post of moderator. Atty. Arthur Williams, incumbent, has also taken out papers for re-election to the post.

In the only other office on the ballot, the term of Thomas R. Wallace on the Andover Housing Authority expires this year.

Berthold, chairman of the Andover Development and Industrial Commission has announced he is a candidate for election to the Andover board of selectmen.

Berthold, a retired engineer, has lived in Andover since 1954 and has been active with a num-

Tax Hike Appears Assured

Taxpayers can be prepared for a shock next week when the annual budget statement is issued by Town Manager Richard J. Bowen.

Bowen will present the budget to the selectmen, finance committee and other town boards at a meeting in Memorial Hall library at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 15.

The manager at the annual town meeting last year predicted a tax rate increase of $4. As the budget is prepared for presentation this year, that figure would appear to be on the low side.

The school department is wrestling with a budget in the vicinity of $5,000,000, an increase in excess of $800,000 over 1968. This in itself represents almost $4 of the tax rate.

Municipal departments are also seeking increased funds, and projects and plans for '69 are also demanding finances.

The municipal debt of over $1,000,000 for utilities and school construction also represents a considerable portion of the tax structure—a built-in figure which is increasing annually.

Bowen has been working on the finalizing of the budget and will be prepared to give a "state of the town" address on Wednesday. As matters appear at this time, it would seem that it will mean digging deeper into the pocket-book for the local property taxpayer in 1969.

The Rocks Remain In Question

The question of rocks on the playgrounds at the new high school remains to be an issue in question.

Dr. Albert Greenberg, chairman of the finance committee, received a letter recently signed by 35 students of the high school stating there are rocks on the fields, but that the football field is in excellent condition.

The letter followed a recent school committee meeting in which Dr. Greenberg and School Committeeman William A. Doherty clashed over the rocks issue.

Doherty has contended all along that there are rocks on the fields and the situation is dangerous. When he asked Dr. Greenberg what the finance committee was going to do about the situation, the chairman said conditions had been repaired and that Doherty was "harping" on the subject.

In the letter, the students stated: "In reference to an article in the Dec. 18 issue of the Eagle Tribune, we the undersigned would like to point out that there are rocks on the fields. These rocks pose a great danger to those of us who have to play on such fields. Since you admitted that no one has brought the matter to your attention, we feel it timely to do so. We also feel the matter is important enough to warrant Mr. Doherty's 'harping.' We invite you to make a personal inspection and draw your own conclusion." Wednesday, Dr. Greenberg said he intended to personally inspect the fields but would not do so until weather conditions improve.

He noted that rocks are a traditional New England problem and that a spring inspection would probably reveal just how acute the problem is, if any.

Dr. Greenberg told the TOWNSMAN, that if, in fact, there is a problem, then steps would be taken to correct conditions.

"I don't know how it will be

1969 CASH REWARDS from 1968 CASH PURCHASES

January is an exciting month for CO-OP shoppers. This is because two rewarding things are going on at the same time.

For one thing, our shoppers are adding up their 1968 purchase slips (or bringing them to our office for adding). The 1968 CO-OP surplus is distributed to each member, shopper in proportion to patronage. Thus, the more you buy at the CO-OP, the greater the return in HARD CASH.

Secondly, CO-OP shoppers know that their January 1969 purchases are already accumulating CASH savings for the 1970 refund.

That is why this month is a doubly rewarding month.

Senator Brooke To Address Chamber

The Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual Legislative Briefing Luncheon at the Christian Formation Center, River Road, Andover, on Friday, Jan. 17, at 12 noon according to Roger N. Bower, chamber president.

The guest of honor will be Senator Edward W. Brooke, who will deliver a legislative report to the members and friends of the Chamber. His comments will focus upon the past performance of the 90th Congress and will give those attending a glimpse into the concerns and issues that will confront the upcoming session. Following his presentation, Senator Brooke has consented to entertain questions from the floor.

The Christian Formation Center, a recently dedicated ecumenical center, is located on the grounds of St. Francis' Seminary.

The luncheon is sponsored by the Congressional Action Committee of the chamber, Charles M. Poore, chairman. The Chamber's Congressional Action Committee has been cited by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and other groups as having one of the outstanding legislative programs in the country.

At the luncheon, chamber president, Roger N. Bower, will welcome the members, state and local legislators, and Greater Lawrence municipal and town leaders.

Very Rev. Matthias Pastore, O.F.M., director of the Christian Formation Center, will deliver the invocation.

Senator Brooke will be introduced by Rep. Paul W. Cronin serving in the Massachusetts General Court from the 13th Essex District.

Senator Brooke is a native of Washington, D. C. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Harvard University in 1941 and his Bachelor and Master of Law Degrees from Boston University in 1948 and 1950.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke

Tuberculin Testing Program Set

A tuberculin testing program will be conducted for Andover students in grades 1-11 during the week of February 3.

The consent of parents is necessary for a pupil to participate in the program. Consent slips will be distributed Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 13 and 14, and must be returned to school by Friday, Jan. 24.

The Tine test will be used in the testing program and consists of a plastic handle attached to a small metal disc on which are 4 small points or tines. The tines are coated with tuberculin protein testing material. The disc is applied to the forearm with a slight pressure and is held in place for a second or two.

Forty-eight to seventy-two hours later, the test will be read. There may be a slight reaction in some cases. If the test is positive it does not mean that the student has active disease. However, a more sensitive test must then be given. If this is also positive, it indicates that at some time, the student has been exposed to active TB and enough tuberculosis germs have entered the body to cause a skin reaction. A chest X-ray should be taken to determine whether or not there is any damage to the lungs. Chest X-rays of positive reactors and their family members will be arranged through the local school nurses, and the board of health, and the Lawrence Chest Clinic.

This tuberculin testing program is under the direction of the school nurses. The tests will be given on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 3 and 4.

This program is part of the county-wide tuberculosis control program. Cooperating agencies include Andover Board of Health and School Department, Essex County Health Association, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Division of Tuberculosis Control and the North-eastern District Health office.

St. Augustine's

Guild To Meet

St. Augustine's School Guild will hold its monthly meeting in the school hall tonight at 8 p.m.

This will be an "Open House," evening with visitation of classrooms. Guests are welcome.

Mrs. Robert Page is chairman of the program, assisted by a committee of grade two mothers including Mrs. John Cahill, Mrs. Richard Collins, Mrs. Thomas Curtain, Mrs. Anthony Giannone, Mrs. Robert Gildea, Mrs. Leonard Ronan, Mrs. Robert Scanlon and Mrs. Charles Wesson.

Miss Drazy To Study In New Zealand In '69

The American Field Service of Andover has been notified that Miss Denise Drazy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Drazy, 6 Amherst Road, has been chosen to go to New Zealand for a year.

Miss Drazy is a senior at Andover High school.

The AFS endeavors to promote better understanding among people by sending American high school students abroad, either for a summer or a full year and by bringing foreign high school students to the U.S. to both study and live with an American family for a year.

Denise will live with Mr. and Mrs. Colin Flett of Stuart Street, Milton, Otago, New Zealand. The Fletts live in the southern part of the south island and Mr. Flett is a sheep farmer with 3,000 sheep.

The family has a young boy, a girl just a little younger than Denise and an older girl in college.

Denise will leave Andover Jan. 18 and go right to New Zealand after a day in San Francisco. She will attend high school in New Zealand and return to the U.S. in January, 1970.

Currently Miss Deirdre Robinson, who graduated from Andover High school last year is in Wetikon, Switzerland and Winston Francesco of the Phillipines is living with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thompson of 52 Chandler Circle, under the Andover AFS program.

As a means of helping to raise the money, the Andover chapter of AFS must contribute to each AFS student they send abroad; they are sponsoring a benefit night at the Lawrence Cinema of Thursday, Jan. 30.

Miss Denise Drazy

All tickets must be purchased by Jan. 20 since all unsold tickets must be returned on that date and no further sales will be attributed to the local organization.

Those wishing to assist the program and attend the cinema performance, should contact Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thompson, 52 Chandler Circle or Mrs. Herbert Lake, 22 Greenwood Road.

Germany Now

New Attitudes Are Plainly Evident

By George Speers

General Manager

New England Press Association

(Last of a Series)

What about attitudes toward some of the "old politics" of Germany, Nazism, for example? Or anti-semitism?

Having participated in World War II, I was naturally on the lookout for such signs. Everywhere I went I kept my eyes open and ears listening for leads. None became apparent to me.

Is this to say that such sympathies are extinct in Germany? No, I don't think so. But I would add quickly that neither are they extinct in the U. S. or anywhere for that matter, I suspect.

What did impress me with regard to these delicate and sensitive matters was how thoroughly unacceptable they are now. I expected to hear some rationalizations or justifications for past actions. I didn't. To me this meant that the old Third Reich concepts are discredited and disgraced in mainstream thinking.

Then, there is another fact of life that has a great deal to do with it. What remains of German leadership of World War II days and before, is now in the 70 or 80 year age bracket. Some could possibly be in the 60's. But the ranks are essentially depleted or gone.

The newer generations don't identify with the Nazi thinking, and are repelled by it. The young adult generation and student age group weren't even born during that period. In fact, 52% of the present German population was not born then.

But the myths of Nazi Germany still go on in movie houses all over America and on TV screens in millions of homes. The stereotypes of "Hogan's Heroes" or "Rat Patrol" or countless other programs and movies do nothing to bring American thinking up-to-date. They obstruct understandings and clear thinking. They are 25-30 years behind reality. And, surely, this is dangerous, and increasingly so, to the best interests of America and a free Europe.

Another question that might well be asked about modern Germany is whether or not the German people are interested in democratic values?

My answer to this is yes.

I base such a conclusion on four main factors: young generation thinking (students in particular, since they represent future leadership), the German press, Marshall Plan aid and economic recovery measures, and the built in safeguards in the Constitution (thanks to the foresight and guidance of the American Occupation powers after World War II).

To me there is little doubt that the younger generations want democracy and do not want "it to happen again" in their country.

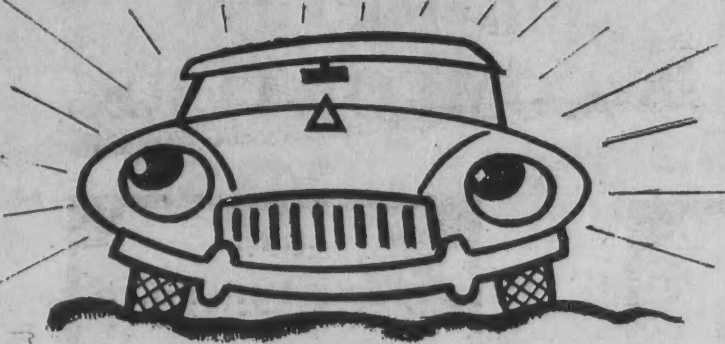

They are very sensitive to concentrations of power and react negatively to them. During their entire lifetime they have heard about democracy and have seen it take root and become established in their own country, a phenomenon new in German history. I could find no distaste or rejection of democracy among younger people. A criticism of some American policies, yes, but a rejection of what we consider democratic values, no.

With respect to the German press, I am encouraged by what I have seen. Most editors and publishers, after 20 years of publishing under a new concept of little governmental interference, have adopted the idea with enthusiasm. Newsmen frankly tell you they like it and take pride in explaining how they no longer have to accept the dictates of governmental officials. They are perfectly willing to criticize government policies, and do. More than 80% of the German press was taken over directly by Nazi officials during the 30's and World War II. Some publishers can tell you how they were closed down. Such memories are still vivid and press leaders want no more of the "old days."

PROSPEROUS AND MODERN. Germany is probably the most modern and prosperous country in Western Europe today thanks largely to German diligence and Marshall Plan aid. Modern buildings and new expressways are found in most, if not all, German cities such as in the case of Dusseldorf shown above.

Without U. S. Marshall Plan aid and other economic support, West Germany certainly would never have recovered from almost complete devastation as rapidly as it did. I don't think anyone questions this. Certainly the Germans do not.

With Marshall Plan and other U. S. aid, it was inevitable that other values would be involved. Trade, commerce, business exchanges to help to bring about better understandings among peoples and countries. The U. S. and Germany are no exceptions. From these relationships other cultural values followed: music (including rock and roll), clothing styles, literature, a variety of

Andover Man Guided Pilot Program For Avco

John B. Kelley, president of Avco Economic Systems Corporation, has issued an "all goals met" first year progress report on its Roxbury Printing Division - the nation's first "business-government partnership" venture to provide ghetto job opportunities.

"After one year of operation, the Roxbury Division has met all of its business objectives," said Mr. Kelley. "It is a productive and permanent part of the community. And with the beginning of its second year, we have realized another important objective by placing the operation under black management. Robert Ellis, a lifetime resident of Roxbury with 22 years' experience in the printing trades has been promoted to division general manager." Mr. Ellis had been assistant general manager under Robert E. Earle of Andover who piloted the start of operations in Roxbury.

Kelley also announced the promotion of Mr. Earle as vice president of the Avco Economic Systems Corporation for Printing and Publishing. This new position for Mr. Earle is further evidence of Avco's intent for full development of printing and publication as an Avco business line.

The Roxbury Division opened its doors Dec. 15, 1967 under auspices of the President's Test Program for Job Development to Provide jobs and training for disadvantaged residents of the Roxbury section of Boston. Avco was the first company to respond to the test program.

The division consists of a complete offset printing plant for commercial printing and duplicating services while also providing central printing services for the parent Avco Corporation. On its first anniversary, the Roxbury Division has an annual payroll in excess of $1.1 million and employs 189 persons on three shifts. Of the total employees, 79 percent are Negro, fourteen percent Puerto Rican and seven percent white.

In embarking on the program, Avco's objective was to establish a viable business staffed and managed by inner city residents.

"That objective has been met," said Mr. Kelley. "and in meeting this objective, our experience demonstrates that the private sector can make a contribution toward solving some of the nation's critical urban problems."

Mr. Kelley's first-year progress report came at a time when President-elect Richard Nixon is advocating increased involvement by the American business and industrial community in socio-economic programs.

Started in leased facilities at 716 Columbus Ave., Boston, the Roxbury Division will occupy a permanent new 60,000 square foot building at 188 Geneva Ave., Dorchester, early this month. Avco fostered the creation of a consortium of eight black contractors, incorporated as the United Contractors of Roxbury, to build its new $1 million permanent Roxbury Division plant.

Mr. Earle was born in Dawson Spring, Ky., and holds a bachelor's degree in Economics from the University of Maryland.

Mr. Earle lives with his wife, Margaret, on Tobey Lane. They are the parents of five daughters and a son.

Mr. Earle joined AVCO's Research and Development Division in Wilmington, in 1956. Prior to joining AVCO, Mr. Earle had worked for the Atomic Energy Commission, the American Embassy in Denmark and the E. I. duPont Company.

information, democratic values, etc.

Without such vital economic aid, who knows where Germany would have had to turn for help? And the consequent political thinking might very well be far different from what it is today. It probably would not be along democratic lines.

Certainly a most critical factor in helping post war Germany to develop along democratic political lines, are the many, many measures taken by the American and Allied Occupation forces immediately after the War and even now to some extent. The period from 1945 to 1950 were especially critical years. Keeping old leadership out of sensitive posts and putting new leadership in these positions was certainly not easy. Results to date tell us that this problem was handled quite well on the whole. Great progress has been made, not only in the reconstruction of the cities, but in the political system. The Constitution of the Federal Republic is working, the Parliament and election system are functioning more effectively with each passing year, and the political system seems to be responsive to criticism and suggestion.

For these and other reasons, one can make a good case for Germany's new political look. The signs do point to a growing open society and a representative one.

Could "it" happen again?

Yes, it could. There are no guarantees, certainly, when it comes to political thinking and national attitudes.

We have only to look to our own country and what seem to be growing forces from the "new" left and far right. The "seeds" are right here in the U. S., as they are everywhere, Germany included.

We all know that a house can catch fire without any apparent reason if we neglect it. But we all know that there are reasons for such disasters. And we know, too, that with constant and patient observations, and the willingness to be ever watchful, such calamities can be eliminated.

The same principles apply to the house next door, our own town, to countries, and to the world, it seems to me.

CONSERVATION TOPIC. Town Manager Richard J. Bowen was the main speaker at the meeting of the Andover Garden Club Tuesday and discussed conservation projects in Andover. Left to right are Mrs. Franklin P. Swain Jr., club president, Bowen and Mrs. Walter Hughes, chairman of the conservation committee of the club.

the chapter from 1966 to 1968, and chairman of the organization's disaster committee between 1964 and 1968.

He is active also with the Andover Village Improvement Society. He has been chairman of the conservation group's land management committee since 1964, a member of the board of trustees since 1963 and also served with the A.V.I.S. fund raising committee.

Berthold is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, the Andover Committee for "A Better Chance," the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Lawrence International Institute, the Andover Committee for Equal Opportunities, the Andover Historical Society, and the Andover YMCA.

He serves with his wife, Ruth, as a Sunday volunteer worker at the Lawrence General Hospital and pursues a number of hobbies including reading, music, gardening and work with young people. On occasion, he fills in as a substitute teacher of engineering drawing and mathematics at Andover High school.

The Bertholds are the parents of two married daughters, both of whom attended Andover High school. Anne is an architect in Corning, N. Y., and Kay is a graduate student at Columbia University School of Social Work. Mrs. Berthold works at Memorial Hall Library.

Mr. and Mrs. Berthold live at 179 Shawshen Road.

Frishman is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Memorial Hall library.

Dr. Frishman has been long interested in Andover's educational affairs. In 1961, he was chairman of the Andover Educational Conference. A year later, he received the Distinguished Service Award for Contribution in Education in Andover. A member of the library Board of Trustees since 1961, he was actively involved in the library's recent rebuilding program. He was elected chairman of the library board in 1967.

A chemist and inventor, with varied experience in the chemical and textile fields, Dr. Frishman worked for many years as a director of research and development. In 1962, he founded his own company where he developed many new products and acted as a technical consultant to industries who established factories to produce these new products. A number of United States and foreign patents are in his name. At present, Dr. Frishman is technical advisor to Reid-Meredith, Inc.

Dr. Frishman is listed in American Men of Science, Who's Who in the East, and World Who's Who in Commerce and Industry. He is a frequent contributor to scientific and technical publications and is the recipient of a War Department Award for his contribution to atomic research during World War II.

His professional societies include: The American Chemical Society, the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists, the American Association for Advancement of Science, and the Fiber Society.

Dr. Frishman received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Brooklyn College, a Master of Science in Physical Chemistry from Catholic University, and a Ph.D. in Biochemistry from Georgetown University. In addition to his industrial experience, he has taught college chemistry on a part-time basis.

Dr. Frishman and his wife, Ruth, have been residents of Andover since 1955. All four of their children attended schools in Andover. Their oldest son, Michael, is now a writer for the New York Times, Steven is a graduate student at the University of Texas, Laura is a senior at Vassar, and Robert, their youngest son, is a senior at Andover High school.

In announcing his candidacy, Frishman noted some of the area with which he is concerned. Financially, he said, "we must plan for the best use of the dollars we spend on education."

As for students, Frishman feels, "prepare students for living in a world where "participatory democracy," will play an important role."

He feels that the committee should strive "for excellence" in the filling of administrative and teaching positions.

As for building Frishman said, "we need an ongoing program where each area of Andover is studied and decisions made for that section for example, a new building vs. expansion of an existing school."

ON TRANSPORTATION

Rep. Paul W. Cronin of Andover has been reappointed to the legislative committee on transportation. He served on the same committee in his initial year in the legislature.

SALARIES

$27,000 to a $61,000 request for this year.

Katz remarked: "We found a $4000 error in his office expenses alone." "Perhaps we'll find a proportionate one in these items." The committee directed Jack Berberian to go back to Dunn, as well as to the head nurse, whose health expenses showed a sharp rise to $8,700, Berberian is to demand justification for each item in both budgets.

In salary items, the committee added a secretary for the reading program, as well as okaying the recommended secretaries for the library director, Bancroft and library central purchasing, and the superintendent's office, but refused to sanction additional secretarial help for the junior high administrative staff. Mrs. Virginia Cole asked what requests the junior highs had made for tutors for dyslexic children. Learning that West Junior high had requested 18 hours, and East Junior high none, she pointed out that since such children need at least two years of tutoring, she wanted an accounting of the number of perceptually handicapped children expected in the junior highs next year, and the number of tutors each principal was requesting to help these children.

The committee cut out the $2,400 in the budget for curriculum chairman, on the grounds that the curriculum council should be delayed until a new superintendent takes over.

The schoolmen approved administrative recommendations for allowing for some experience, in salary figures for the elementary librarians who are switching from the town to the teaching salary scale. Librarian's salaries, however, are set with the provision that the librarian become certified within three years of employment by the school.

While on expenses, the committee and the attending finance committee heard with evident disgust that Massachusetts Electric Company, which had estimated high school electric bill as $39,000, was so far planning no rebate for the actual bill of $54,000. The schoolmen heard with interest finance committee members' suggestion that if the utility company was not sympathetic to the problem created by the gross underestimate, it might be better to switch to another form of heat.

Narcotics Discussion Scheduled

The narcotics problem and its cure will be presented at the Andover Baptist Church on Sunday, Jan. 12 at 7 p.m.

The director of Boston's Teen Challenge, Victor Jackson, will speak and show their latest documentary film, "The Runaway Generation," showing runaway kids, LSD crash party, marijuana, hippies at Haight-Asbury, the hippie evangelist and other aspects of the problem.

This rally is designed to make youth and parents aware of the problems of narcotic addiction and abuse as well as other juvenile delinquent problems that are common to suburban as well as urban areas of our society. Parents are made aware of the dangers that invade even the home.

Through the use of explanation, cases, documentary films and testimonies from workers of Teen Challenge who deal with thousands of youth each year, and from former addicts, people can see the program and principles that can be applied in the local community. People are challenged to become more deeply involved in reaching the problem youth of their community.

The work of Teen Challenge across the nation has become familiar to many through David Wilkerson's book, "The Cross and The Switchblade".

The public is invited to this meeting. No tickets needed, and no admission charge.

Gym Team Displaying Top Talent

Hard work and constant practice has prepared Andover High's gymnastic team for the coming season.

Through the final stages of preparation the squad has rounded out well and it has become apparent who will be competing for the team according to Coach Peter Della Monica.

Richard Seikunas and David Leong are the two all-around performers and will appear on every piece of apparatus. Ron Stanton is the top man on long horse vaulting, backed up closely by Tim Hatch. Long horse and free exercise will be the strongest events for Andover, with Seikunas and co-captain Leong featured on the latter event. Seniors Wes Shattuck, Dick Ferguson, Kevin Armstrong, Mike Hartrich, and co-captain Paul Russell also should be obtaining high scores.

During the Christmas vacation workouts, Coach Della Monica had been stressing routines and it has been paying off. Adding on the expected progress during the season to the good shape of the team now, Andover should continue its record of fine performances, the coach said.

Andover beat South Portland, Maine last Saturday night with a score of 106.70 to 89.60.

William A. Doherty, left, and Andrew F. Coffin discuss take-over of Coffin Insurance Agency by the Doherty Insurance Agency.

A Personal Message from Andrew F. Coffin

ANDREW F. COFFIN INSURANCE AGENCY INC.
71 Main Street, North Andover, Mass. 01845
Established 1935

January 2, 1969

Dear Friends:

"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven."

And so the time has come for me to make a change in my business life. The reasons for this change, and every detail affecting your interests as well as mine, have been carefully thought out. Some of you already know by having asked me personally, but this is my first written announcement to my customers that I have sold my insurance agency to the Doherty Insurance Agency, Inc. of Andover. This sale represents a major change. Why am I selling?

Insurance is a major industry and an essential one. But like all businesses today, it is becoming more complex, more complicated, and requires more time and attention to countless details. In other words, the tension mounts as the years go on.

And so, at 60, while I believe I am organically in good health, the tension load is too much to carry alone, as the danger signals have clearly indicated. But I expect to remain active, to a lesser degree, in the insurance and real estate business. The Doherty brothers have the organization, the know-how, the experience, the staff, the equipment, the financial stability, the personality, the plans for continuation, and above all, the real concern for customers and rugged integrity which I covet so much for my clients. These are the reasons for choosing the Dohertys as my successors.

I have known the four Doherty brothers for many years. As a matter of fact, back in the 1930's when I was the North Andover reporter, Bill Doherty occupied a desk near me while he covered the town of Andover and we became firm friends. He opened his agency in 1934, and I followed suit in 1935. I have the highest confidence in Bill and his brothers, Jim, Joe and John, all of whom have won high honors for their national, state or local civic and business service. The sale was completed at year's-end. The Dohertys will continue the agency at this location, and I will occupy desk space here to do my real estate business, and to solicit new accounts for the agency.

I sincerely appreciate the wonderful support you have given me during these many years. I ask your continued support of the agency under new management, because I will be associated with it for many years to come, because I have a vital financial interest in its continuing success, and because I know you will continue to be well served.

Sincerely yours,

Andrew F. Coffin

Editorial Comment

The Doctors

We note with interest in our letters to the editor column of Dec. 19, the concern of a number of persons, many of them professional persons, about our comment on a proposed $30,000 program for the public schools for instruction in sex, drug abuse, alcohol and tobacco.

Our commentary, briefly noted that we felt that such instruction should come from the home, and not from the taxpayers. We also felt teachers have assumed sufficient responsibility, rather than taking on the role of the parents in this particular area.

We continue to feel this way and have delayed comment until after the holiday season in order that our thoughts would not be overlooked due to the festive activities of past couple of weeks.

We will bend a little and admit that possibly some assistance could come in this area from the schools. But we still wonder why, when problems of this nature erupt, there is a sudden surge to some public authority, for example, the schools, with the question what are you going to do about it?

Doesn't anybody want to assume any personal authority anymore?

Apparently not.

What interested us most in the condemnation of our thoughts, was the suggestion, first that in a sense, we were old fashioned. Second, the thought that doctors would be free to speak to groups on these various subjects.

Frankly, this interested us very much. Initially, let us say we are a little old fashioned, and proudly so, since we can remember the family doctor that came to the house when we were sick.

In this modern day and age, the pattern in the great majority of cases, is drag yourself out of a sick bed to the doctor's office, or if not that, pull yourself together and get to a hospital for tests.

Following the tests get yourself back home and wait a day, or two, or three, for the results.

We can recall the case of a person seriously ill, and when the physician was called, the husband was asked if there was any possibility of bringing the patient to the office in about four hours. The physician consented to come to the house and the patient was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

The great increase in health insurance and medical specialties has thrown the traditional relationship of patient and general practitioner out of kilter. The number of patients is proportionately larger than the number of family doctors. The doctor who plunks a patient in the hospital rather than tie up his time running around acts sometimes by necessity as well as convenience.

That's not the way we see it, however. We feel that the doctor has taken an oath to treat a patient afflicted with an illness. He has studied for his practice, he has devoted his life to healing, regardless of a person's station in life.

Old fashioned? We suppose maybe we are, but we remember the comfort brought through the visit at the home bedside by the family doctor.

Old fashioned? It must be that we remember the old fashioned admonishment of parents who were home taking care of their children and not relying on the public school systems to teach what should rightfully be a matter for the home.

We are glad to see that doctors and professional people are available to speak to school and other groups, but most certainly, we would be much happier if they applied themselves to their practice the same way we old fashioned people once knew them to be.

Tempered Regret

If we were to say we were happy to learn of the upcoming retirement of Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson, it would not sound proper.

Rather we say that we greet the news with tempered regret.

Regret that Andover is soon to lose a capable administrator who has seen the town's school system mushroom into an awesome responsibility.

But we temper that regret with the thought that Mr. Erickson, in what we hope will be the many years ahead, will be able to enjoy life and reflect on the years he spent meeting the problems of Andover's growing school system.

In his statement to the school committee in noting his impending retirement, he noted the demise of several persons who never really got to enjoy those years of leisure. We agree, whole heartedly.

The responsibility of running the Andover school system is tremendous. Modern systems, an ever-increasing school population, a budget in the millions, labor-management negotiations, all assuming increased duties.

To this end, Mr. Erickson has applied himself for several years. He has seen growth of the schools from enrollments of hundreds to thousands. He has administered annual budgets which ranged from hundreds of thousands to now an estimated $5,000,000.

He has overseen the building of several new schools in this community.

Now, he has decided to step down.

We regret his move, for he has proven to be a most capable educational administrator for Andover. We wish him good health and enjoyment in his future retirement.

Off The Top Of The Desk

We are somewhat indebted to one of the nations most popular figures---the Peanuts comic strip---for a cartoon which appeared in one of last week's Boston newspapers. Schroeder, one of the characters, was writing a letter to the editor and started it off with "Dear editor of letters to the editor, how have you been?" Lucy, another character immediately questioned him, stating "how have you been?, what sort of letter is that to write to an editor." Schroeder, in reply, states, "I just thought he might appreciate having someone inquire about the state of his health, editors are sort of human too, you know."

Kind of comforting, even if it is in a comic strip.

We enter now, what many refer to as the grim months of the year. The holiday lights are darkened, the festivities have ended, the bills are coming in, and for the next couple of months there will be cold, snow, sleet, ice, etc. It's just that time of year once again, and until the sun starts to shine down a little brighter each day in March and April, and the buds start to form on the trees, we'll just have to put up with it.

Nature, with all its beauty, has a way of reminding us that it can't always be a beautiful day or week the year 'round.

The weather, or the Registry of Motor Vehicles, quite uncooperative this year in the registering of the family motor vehicle for 1969. Administering of the sticker to make the car legally operable was hampered by the freezing cold on New Year's Day. We went to put the sticker, carefully scraping off the '68 insign, then went to wash the remains, only to have the windshield freeze due to the water application. Of course, it never occurred to warm the car up first.

With the advent of winter weather, comes the traditional warning to be heeded by all. From the American Medical Association, comes the advisory to beware of snow shoveling. If physically fit, such work is all right, but if there is any doubt, "get the job done some other way," the AMA says.

Even if physically fit, the AMA notes, it is safer to use a small shovel, filling it only partly. It is also better to push the snow rather than lift, the association says.

The advisory is in view of the number of snow shovelers who annually risk injury and death in clearing out walks and driveways.

School Dept. States Policy

The Andover school department policy on school closings is restated below, at the request of Superintendent Edward I. Erickson, in order that parents of school children will be fully aware of this policy during the winter months ahead.

"It will be the policy of the school department to close school only in case of extreme weather or travel conditions; otherwise, to hold regular sessions. The widely varying conditions in the several parts of Andover make it difficult to reach decisions equally fair to all.

"Parents are urged, therefore, when schools are open on stormy days, to exercise their personal judgment as to the wisdom of sending their children to school.

"The schedule of no-school signals in effect for the school year follows: A series of three sets of three blasts (3-3-3) on the fire department whistle indicates no-school for the groups below:
6:45 a.m. No-school, all grades, all day.

7:30 a.m. No-school, grades K-6, all day.

11:45 a.m. No afternoon sessions, grades K-6.

"Announcements relative to closing schools will be made over radio stations.

"Parents and pupils are requested to refrain from telephoning the fire department, police department and the school department offices to inquire concerning school sessions. Parents are urged to wait for the announcement to be made of the signal given."

Atty. Williams Nominated For Court Post

Atty. Arthur Williams, who has served Andover as state representative and currently as town moderator, has been nominated by Gov. John A. Volpe as special justice of the Ayer District Court.

His nomination is expected to be confirmed today by the Executive Council.

The nomination was made a week ago and, by statute must be held by the council for seven days before confirmation.

Williams has been serving as Gov. Volpe's legislative secretary since 1967. It is reported that Gov. Volpe had intended to appoint Williams to a full judgeship, but at present there is no vacancy, and the chief executive is expected to leave office soon to become Secretary of Transportation in the Nixon administration.

It is anticipated that when a judgeship of permanent status becomes available, incoming Governor Francis M. Sargent, will place Atty. Williams on the bench. Atty. Williams worked for Sargent in his bid for the lieutenant governorship at the state Republican convention.

Atty. Williams resigned in 1967 as a state representative to accept the legislative secretary position in the Volpe administration.

He has served as moderator for the past several years and will be a candidate for re-election to that post in March, he said last week.

School Board Backs
Bancroft Committee

The school committee backed up the Bancroft School Building committee Tuesday night by stating that it expects the new elementary building by Jan. 18.

This is the date when Leominster Engineering has said Bancroft will be ready for school department occupancy.

Chairman, Dr. Richard A. Katz, speaking for the school committee, stated flatly Tuesday night: "I reiterate: we want the building as soon as possible, and by Jan. 18 at the latest."

As reported in the TOWNSMAN Dec. 19, Frank Reynolds, treasurer and designated spokesman for the main contractor for the Bancroft School, told reporters before school and town officials that the building would be "substantially complete" by Jan. 18.

When the TOWNSMAN reporter asked for a definition of "substantially complete," Reynolds replied that this meant they would be through with "everything except the gymnasium," which he expected to finish in February.

Reynolds said it meant that by Jan. 18 the school department could begin to occupy all the building except the gymnasium, and begin other preparations for the opening of school there.

His statements were made during the Dec. 13 tour of the incomplete school building, which was originally scheduled for a September opening, but rescheduled for Jan. 6. Since September, Bancroft school pupils have been attending South school, which has run double sessions to accommodate the faculties and students of both schools.

At the school committee meeting following this tour, the schoolmen committed themselves, 4-1 over Committeeman William A. Doherty's negative vote, to a school opening no later than Feb. 24, the first day after the winter vacation.

At Tuesday night's meeting, member Virginia Cole, liaison with the Bancroft Building committee, commented on the need for fuller communication with the building committee.

The schoolmen agreed to the building committee's request that building committee sessions be attended by the assistant superintendent for elementary schools or his designate, and the supervisor of general services, to insure the speediest and smoothest solution of the problems that remain between now and the Bancroft school opening.

Crystal

Chemists can crystallize a wide variety of drugs and chemicals. Originally, however, the word "crystal" was applied only to crystals of frost or ice. That is how the word came into being—from the Greek word kryos which means frost.

The term has been used in the English language for about 1,000 years. Its meaning has been expanded to include substance in crystalline form.

This is where your professional operators come in. They examine your hair and cut it according to your facial structure and your hair's quality. The cut is thus the end result of these two things. Your beautician knows what looks best on you. So, have faith in him or her and let them create the fashion that's just right for you.

Mrs. Amore Gives Free Hearing Check-Ups

A hearing defect today is no different than a sight defect. You owe it to yourself to have your hearing tested regularly, just as you have your eyes checked. There is no charge for this service at the Sonotone office, located in the Bay State Building in Lawrence. Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore, Sonotone's certified Hearing Aid Consultant in the Greater Lawrence area, will give you a complete hearing test. Mrs. Amore, an Andover resident with a daughter at Abbot, has been affiliated with Sonotone, the House of Hearing, for 17 years. During this time, she has brought happiness, through the help of hearing, to hundreds of people. Call any time and make an appointment for a free hearing check-up that can be conducted either in your home or at her Sonotone Office. Then Mrs. Amore will be able to evaluate your loss of hearing immediately and offer her expert advice concerning your hearing problem. If you require the attention of an M. D. you will be referred to one at once, or if you prefer you may go to your M. D. first.

By prolonging or avoiding a hearing test when you suspect that you have a hearing problem, you are only making the impairment greater and actually depriving yourself of a normal life. Remember, a hearing defect affects not only your life, but the lives of your loved ones.

If you can take care of hearing problems early in life, you can open up a whole new world for a child. Mrs. Amore treats hundreds of babies in this area. In fact, children's hearing problems are her specialty. She has been testing the hearing of the children of St. Augustine's School in Andover for the past 15 years. Each child is tested individually. Mrs. Amore also visits and takes care of the elderly in nursing homes and hospitals.

For an appointment, call her at 682-4730, or visit Mrs. Amore in her Sonotone office, now two large rooms to serve you better, at Room 315 in the Bay State Building, Lawrence.

Garrett Players To Present Production, Jan. 24-26

"Two For The Seesaw," an adult drama by William Gibson, with a cast of only two people will be staged by the Garrett Players and held at Turn Hall, 44 Park St. Lawrence, Jan. 24-26.

The play is an unusual love story of two desperate beings—a confused man who gave up his wife and the chance of a law career, only to find himself more distressed than before—and a lowly woman who found it much simpler to bend to the world's depravities than to rise above her shoddy existence. From an awkward beginning and through a recurring illness on the part of the woman, the relationship of these two individuals emerges into a more profound understanding of their own weaknesses. Consequently, a new aspect on life is attained by both.

The director of the play is Frank V. Leone of Haverhill, who also directed the first production of the season, "Never Too Late." He is experienced in little theatre work, both as director and actor and served for three years on the board of directors for the Haverhill Community Players. He is presently directing closed circuit T.V.

The difficult, but challenging roles will be performed by Mrs. Kirby Lander, 9 Heather Drive, and Thomas Garland of 229 E. Haverhill St., Lawrence.

Mrs. Lander's acting career began in Connecticut at 18 years of age with the New Haven Experimental Players. She did summer stock work with the Milford Players and also acted in therapeutic plays at Yale Institute of Human Relations for patients suffering from deep emotional problems. She has directed various little theatre groups and her acting credits with the Garrett included lead roles in "Light Up The Sky," "Middle Of The Night," and "Angel Street." Her most recent activity was in teaching three and four year olds in creative dramatics at the Wide Horizons Placement school based at West Parish Church, and in conducting environmental theatre workshop on a seminar basis for teenagers of greater Lawrence.

Mr. Garland, conductor of the Adult Drama Workshop at the Garrett, has been associated with the group for some time. He is a member of the executive board and chairman of the Play-reading committee. He directed "Angel Street" and "The Glass Menagerie" and was last seen in "Catch Me If You Can." He has had much theatrical experience in and around Boston and at one time was associated with the Charles Playhouse.

"Two For The Seesaw" will be presented on Friday, January 24th and Saturday, January 25th at 8:30 p.m. and on Sunday, January 26th at 6:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door. All season ticket holders are asked to please disregard the incorrect dates printed on their tickets for this production, as well as for the months of March and May.

obtain public transportation.

Service to this area is provided through a triangular route which joins Andover, North Andover and Lawrence.

Buses leave Andover for Lawrence every hour beginning at 6:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. and leave North Andover for Lawrence every hour beginning at 6:10 a.m.

Leaving the Lawrence transfer station for Andover, the buses leave every hour beginning at 6:30 a.m. and to North Andover at 6:50 a.m.

The service to the Merrimack college area is the first public transportation facility since 1924 when the former Andover to Haverhill run was made, by another utility.

Trombly said everything was going smoothly and that additional drivers, an initial problem, are now joining the firm. Summing up his feelings after the short term of operation, Trombly said, "We're going to be around for a long time."

'Y' Committee Visits Facilities In Rhode Island

Members of the Andover YMCA Facilities Determination committee visited new YMCA buildings in Rhode Island last week, as they began their work in determining what future course the Andover Y would take in the years ahead.

The committee has been appointed to examine facilities and make recommendations at a later date relative to local facilities. It is not a building committee, but a study committee completely.

Last week the group visited the Westerly, R. I. 'Y' which accommodates a community of about 20,000, with a family type program.

Also visited was the Barrington, R. I. facility which is a branch of the Providence, R.I. 'Y' and provides an indoor and outdoor pool with the building. Also, adjacent to the facility, is a day camp site.

As of the moment, the committee classifies its work as "fishing for ideas." Considerable more exploration and visitations are expected before any determination or recommendation is made.

Doherty Agency Acquires North Andover Firm

A meeting of a couple of reporters in the depression years of the 30's has resulted in the merger of two insurance companies over 30 years later.

The Doherty Insurance Agency of Andover took over the Andrew F. Coffin Insurance Agency, Inc., in North Andover at the end of the year.

A relationship that started between William A. Doherty and Andrew F. Coffin at abutting reporters desks, melded after Mr. Coffin decided that he would like to relieve some of the tension of the everyday business life.

Mr. Coffin for many years was a reporter for the town of North Andover and William Doherty, who founded the Doherty agency, was Andover reporter.

Since the founding of the Doherty agency in 1934, William has been joined by brothers James, Joseph and John, and a considerable staff.

Mr. Coffin in selling the business to the Andover agency stated that he felt that the large organization know-how, experience, staff, equipment and financial stability, would continue to serve his clients well. He said that the mounting tensions indicated that he should take a lesser role and rely on a substantial firm to assume his accounts.

Mr. Coffin will continue to maintain his desk in the North Andover office.

Chapter 90 Funds Given

Andover is due to receive $31,000 in Chapter 90 funds from the state department of public works, according to an announcement by Edward J. Ribbs, commissioner.

The funds which will be matched by the county and the town, will be applied to road improvements on North street, Red Spring Road and Andover street.
